

Innovation Review Published!

This new issue contains articles on:

Smart DC: the Internet Revolution Comes to Buildings, James Johnston, ARUP

Embedding Post Occupation Evaluation into Practice, Bruce Newlands (Kraft Architecture) and Donald Shearer and Tom McNeil (Glasgow School of Art)

Driving Measurable Change for Sustainability, Ruth Kerrigan, IES

Developing Robust Solutions for Roof Upgrades, Grigor Mitchell, GMA

Overcoming the Challenges and Barriers for Innovation in Construction, David McBeth, Duncryne

Available online here or in PDF format here

FINAL CIC START ONLINE EVENT

Dear Members of CIC Start Online,

Thank you for your engagement with CIC Start Online Project!

Our forthcoming joint project of nine Scottish Universities, led by Glasgow Caledonian University, is entitled "Mainstreaming Innovation". It will focus on integration of sustainable infrastructure into the existing built environment.

The project will start on 1st April 2013 and will be funded by Scottish Government. More information will be available at the launch events and on the new project website from 1st April.

We wish you success in designing more sustainable new buildings and improving our existing built environment!

With Best wishes,

CIC Start Online consortium and team

OTHER EVENTS

Applications Open for 2013 Saltire Fellowship

The Saltire Fellowship is a world-class entrepreneurial leadership programme designed to create a global and entrepreneurial mind-set in future business leaders of Scotland. It blends teaching at the top ranked business school in the world for entrepreneurship, Babson College, with two hands-on high value three-month placements; first on an international project based in Boston and then with a Scottish high growth SME.

The programme will fast-track the careers of talented, aspiring business leaders and create a powerful alumni network of Fellows, which will have a major impact on the Scottish economy over the longer term. Upon successful completion of the programme each Fellow will likely be employed in a significant commercially oriented management role in a high growth Scottish business. They will have the business skills and entrepreneurial drive to transform Scottish companies into global businesses of scale.

There are two routes to becoming a Fellow; one is through Open Enrolment and the other via employer sponsorship.

Further information and contact details are available online: <http://gurl.im/edb24b1>

CIC Start Online is led by Glasgow Caledonian University in collaboration with Edinburgh Napier University, The Glasgow School of Art, Heriot Watt University, The Robert Gordon University, University of Edinburgh and University of Strathclyde Glasgow. CIC Start Online is funded by the European Regional Development fund and Scottish Government's SEEKIT programme.

